A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

The Reception and Ball at the Opera House.

The reception and ball given at the Opera House last evening in honor of the officers of the Sixteenth Infantry, was the most brilliant and largely attended social event that has occurred here for a long time. A very large number of invitations were issued, and judging from the number present, most of them must have been accepted. The costumes worn by the ladies were all elegant, while the gentlemen, without exception, appeared in full dress.

The grand march was led by Governor West and Miss Naomi Conklin, and from that time until the close of the festivities, the floor of the Opera House presented a brilliant scene.

The music was furnished by Feder-son's band, and between the dances the Sixteenth Infantry Band, which was stationed in the second gallery, rendered choice selections. An elegant collation was served in the rear of the stage, and to this ample justice was done. Every arrangement which could add to the enjoyment of the occasion and the comfort of the guests was made, and the evening will long be remembered by those who participated in the festivities.
